About Code Council Certification

The Code Council certification program is the oldest, largest, and most prestigious credentialing program for construction code administration and enforcement professionals in the United States. Code Council certification examinations are maintained to the highest standards and include continuous review by committees of experienced professionals.

Becoming Code Council-certified is a significant personal and professional accomplishment and is a key step toward enhanced professional stature. Code Council certificate holders demonstrate a confirmed commitment to protect the public health, safety, and welfare.

Many building departments and state agencies that regulate code enforcement personnel recognize Code Council certification. However, the Code Council cannot guarantee that a specific governmental agency will accept or recognize a Code Council certification. You should first contact the applicable agency regarding specific licensing and employment requirements.

Certification and examination information, including registration/scheduling requirements, dates, locations, fees, and references, are subject to change.

Candidates should make sure they have the most current information before registering for/scheduling a Code Council examination by going to www.iccsafe.org/certification-exam-catalog.

Administrative Rules and Procedures

How often can I take an exam?

In any six (6) month period, you may take an exam up to four (4) times, if necessary, to pass. Each applicant who is not employed by a local government agency will be responsible for payment of the exam fee for every exam taken.

Taking the examination in one category has no effect on testing for the six-month period for another category. For example, if you take the Residential Building Inspector examination and fail it, you would be allowed to take a Commercial Building Inspector or, for example, one of the Plumbing Inspector examinations, without regard to the six-month period for your Residential Building Inspector examination.

How is my exam scored?

What is a passing score? A passing score is the score set by the ICC and/or/with the Exam Development Committee (EDC) as the minimum score needed to pass the exam. This score is technically called a scale score and is often set at 70 or 75.

How is a passing score set? A passing score is set as part of the process at the Exam Development Committee. This part of the process involves setting item-level cut-scores, using the expert judgment of the Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) who are at the EDC. These experts determine what the minimum is that the candidate needs to know in order to obtain the certificate, and a passing score.

What is a scale score? A scaled score transforms a raw test score (the number of test questions answered correctly) into other measurement units, called a scale score. However, please know that a scale score is not the number of questions answered correctly, nor the percentage of questions answered correctly.

Is the current test more or less difficult than prior tests, or future tests? There are multiple forms of the ICC examinations. While these forms were developed from the same set of content specifications, the levels of difficulty of the forms will vary because different exam questions appear on different forms. Some of these questions by their nature (and designated in the cut-score) are more difficult than others, even though they pertain to the same section of the exam. It would be unfair to require a candidate taking a collection (form) of somewhat more difficult questions to answer as many questions correctly as a candidate who took an easier form. So, we use a statistical procedure known as scaling to correct for differences in test form difficulty.

Why scale the scores? If we simply reported the total number of questions answered correctly (the raw score), there would be a different passing score for each form of the test (because of those differences in difficulty). This would be confusing to candidates. So, we convert these raw scores to a constant scale such that, say, the designated 70 or 75 continues as the minimum score required to pass regardless of the form administered, knowing the number of correct answers needed to pass varies from form to form and from year to year.

What is reported? Scaled scores of (typically) 70 or 75 or above are reported as PASS. The ICC does not report the numeric score; the score report simply indicates a passing score by saying PASS. Those who fail the exam are provided the numeric scaled score.

Think of it this way. Let's say an elementary school hired the ICC to create an exam to test for knowledge of aspects of mathematics. Further, let's say the exam was called "Addition and Subtraction," and the Exam Information Bulletin states it is a 100-item exam.

Look at the first ten questions of two different exam forms, both of which measure the concept of " Addition and Subtraction":

Question	Exam Form 1	Question	Exam Form 2
1.	2 + 4 =	1.	6 + 9 =
2.	6 + 4 =	2.	16 + 26 =
3.	7 – 3 =	3.	18 – 16 =
4.	18 + 15 =	4.	23 + 99 =
5.	16 – 4 =	5.	86 – 44 =
6.	8 + 8 =	6.	5 + 1 =
7.	4 + 9 =	7.	29 + 88 =
8.	20 – 17 =	8.	74 – 67 =
9.	4 + 15 =	9.	48 + 96 =
10.	7 – 4 =	10.	55 + 38 =

As you can see, the questions on Form 2 are a bit harder than the questions on Form 1. If these were both 100-item exam forms with such a continuing mix of items, it would be unfair to require the students who were administered Exam Form 2 to answer the same number of questions correctly in order to pass.

Can my exam score be cancelled?

The Code Council reserves the right to revoke or withhold any examination scores if, in its sole opinion, there is adequate reason to question their validity. Reasons are:

- Giving or receiving assistance with answers during testing
- Using unauthorized materials during testing
- Failing to abide by the rules presented or directions from the proctor(s)
- Attempting to or removing examination materials or questions from the testing center.

In cases of examination irregularities which are suspected at testing centers, the scores of the individual(s) involved will not be released unless approved by the Code Council. Additional sanctions may be authorized by the Board, which may include restrictions on retesting for up to three (3) years.

Some scores may be rendered invalid because of circumstances beyond the examinee's control, such as faulty examination materials or mistiming. These situations will be investigated; when such occurrences result in cancellation of an examinee's scores, the Code Council will arrange for a makeup ex- amination for the examinees concerned.

Does the Code Council require a candidate to have a certain level of experience or education before taking an examination?

No. Most Code Council examinations are open to all individuals with no prerequisite for experience or education. Code Council certification should be used as one of several measures of an individual's qualifications when screening applicants for a position. Inspectors should possess the right mix of technical knowledge, education, and related experience. Because proper weighting of the relative importance of these three qualifications is a subjective decision, determining the emphasis of Code Council certification is most appropriately performed at the local level by the building official. For this reason, the Code Council does not specify education or experience requirements for certification applicants for most categories. However, the Reinforced Concrete Special Inspector has additional requirements after passing the certification exam.

Which exam(s) should I take?

As requirements for employment differ from jurisdiction to jurisdiction, the Code Council cannot recommend specific certifications to you. We strongly encourage you to contact the jurisdiction in which you wish to work for more information on their specific needs and couple this information with the exam- specific listings in this bulletin.

Is a Code Council certification the same as a license?

A license is a permit to work in a particular occupation, issued as a result of state or local legislation. Code Council certifications are voluntary certifications. Many jurisdictions require Code Council certification in their administrative regulations. Check with your state or local agency to find out if your state recognizes Code Council certifications.

What is the best way to prepare for an examination?

The first step to prepare for an examination is by first obtaining the Examination Content Outlines found in this bulletin. With this information, you can supplement your studying with Code Council seminars, self-study workbooks, and textbooks.

When can I test?

PRONTO testing is immediately available—24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

When will I receive my results?

Results for examinations taken electronically are available immediately after completion of the examination. For most certification categories, candidates will automatically receive a digital wallet card, wall certificate, and badge within 48 hours of meeting the certification requirements.

What type of question format will be included in the examination?

Test questions are in four-option, multiple-choice format, with one answer on each question scored as correct. Due to the rigorous psychometric processes used by the Code Council in exam development, questions do not follow patterns (e.g., "the most common answer is 'B'").

Are the examinations open book?

Yes, most exams are open book. To get the most updated information on examinations, go to www.iccsafe.org/certification-exam-catalog.

Can't I just look up all of the answers in the books?

Because of the time constraints, you will not have time to look up all of the answers. For those answers you must look up, you must be VERY familiar with the references to avoid wasting time searching for information. First impressions are often the most accurate, but you may change your answers if time allows.

How long are the examinations?

The length and allowed times vary depending upon the subject matter. To get the most updated information on examinations, go to www.iccsafe.org/certification-exam-catalog.

How many examinations can I take at one administration?

You may take as many PRONTO exams in one day as you wish, if you still have authorizations available.

Should I guess if I don't know the answer to a question?

There is no guessing penalty, so it is to your advantage to answer every question. Remember to base your answers on the listed references for each exam, not solely on long-time field practices.

How do I renew my ICC certification?

In most cases, you will need to have a certain number of continuing education credits (CEUs) to renew your certification. For more information on keeping your certification current, go to www.iccsafe.org/renewals.

If I pass one CBO examination but fail the other, do I need to retake both exams?

A candidate who passes one module has eighteen (18) months to pass the other(s) without retaking the passed exam. After eighteen (18) months, the candidate would need to retake and pass all currently required examination modules.

Who can see my candidate records?

All Code Council certification examination candidates have certain rights in relation to their educational records. To view the complete Certification Records Policy, visit the Code Council website at www.iccsafe.org/ac-forms-library/.

This information is not used to determine whether a candidate passes or fails; it is for self-evaluation only. Candidates who pass will be notified with the word "PASS." Refer to Examination Scoring on page 8.

You must pass both the ICC certification and the Florida Principles and Practice examination to be eligible for licensure. Your license will be issued by DBPR in approximately 30 days. Once your license has been issued or an additional category has been added to your existing license, you can verify this on the website for the Florida Department of Business and Professional Regulations, www.myfloridalicense.com/dbpr. You may begin to work under your new license or category. You are not required to wait until you receive your actual license to work.

Rule 61G19-6.085 F.A.C. states, "An applicant for licensure under this part shall satisfactorily complete the Florida laws and rules (Principles and Practice) exam with a passing grade of 70% or higher. An applicant shall not have to take the exam again provided the applicant has maintained continuous employment in one of the licensure categories of Chapter 468, Part XII, Florida Statutes, or Chapter 471 or 481, Florida Statutes, active licensure and continuing education."

If you have not taken or passed the Florida Principles and Practice examination, please contact Pearson VUE at 1-888-204-6230.

What if I have special needs?

The Code Council complies with the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). If you need special arrangements for testing, please visit the Florida DBPR Bureau of Education and Testing's website for more information on special testing services. All examination sites have access for candidates with disabilities. The Code Council will make sure candidates are provided auxiliary aids and services, except where it may fundamentally alter the examination or results.
