American Plumber Stories Launches Season Five Featuring International Code Council

The popular docuseries goes international for the first time and includes episodes filmed in Canada and Australia

Washington, D.C.– Season five of Pfister® Faucet’s American Plumber Stories, titled “Plumbing Without Borders,” premiered its first episode, Hope, on September 2, 2024. The new season, sponsored by the International Code Council, features plumbers from around the world who are conquering challenges both personal and professional. The Code Council is featured in episode two, Plumber Down Under, which will debut on October 28, 2024.

American Plumber Stories is a docuseries that serves to inspire, educate and entertain both current and future members of the plumbing industry. The show celebrates the lives and work of all plumbers by sharing their passion, advice to the next generation of plumbers and their plans to reshape the industry.

“We are proud to be part of such an inspiring show,” said Code Council Chief Executive Officer Dominic Sims, CBO. “There are fantastic opportunities right now for anyone who wants to pursue a career in plumbing, and we are eager to help elevate the profession with stories that provide an in-depth look into what it means to be a plumber today.”

This is the first time the show has traveled outside of the United States, and there is great excitement about reaching an international audience – especially the next generation of plumbers.

In Hawaii, viewers meet a plumber who lost everything in the Lahaina wildfire. In Tasmania, American Plumber Stories touches down in extremely remote locations to work alongside the “Crocodile Dundee” of the plumbing industry. The series explores plumbing in extreme climates in Alaska and highlights a team of women plumbers in Canada. In California, viewers will meet the team at “Motherflushers” and go behind prison walls with a plumber who teaches the trade to inmates at Soledad State Prison. Season five also welcomes back country music star and Army Reserve Soldier Craig Morgan as the show’s host.
